

Dear Parents and Friends,

We thought you'd enjoy three videos we produced that will give you a further peak into some very exciting developments at Avenues.

The first video, "Seeing Energy," introduces a unique energy visualization program that will let Avenues students engage, monitor and adjust energy consumption at our Chelsea campus.

Parents are keenly interested in meeting the faculty who will be implementing the curriculum and teaching their children. The next two videos will introduce you to nearly two dozen new members of the Avenues family.

Recently, members of Avenues' faculty leadership met to discuss and work on curricula specific to their grades and subject areas. We thought you'd enjoy meeting nine of them.

Lastly, we've assembled a short montage of interviews with 13 new faculty members currently posted on our blog site, OPEN.

We hope you enjoy these short stories, and that you have a wonderful holiday season.

Please keep up with us at our blog site, OPEN.

Sincerely,
The Avenues Team
